

The board and committee of The Angler work hard every year to get all Anglers written, edited, checked and prepared for printing in time for the deadlines. Printing enough editions to give all students of English the chance to enjoy our work cost some money of course, and that's where we could use your help! Do you want to help to keep The Angler going and to support printing of all issues? We have multiple forms of sponsorship, about which you can read below.

Friend of the Angler

What? As a Friend of the Angler, you donate €5 per year. This is not something you get stuck to, it automatically terminates at the end of each academic year (being July). If you want to continue being a Friend, we will send out a reminder before July, and you can choose to continue being a Friend (and so helping us keep the Angler in print!)

Why? The costs for printing The Angler are higher than what we are subsidized for, and because the magazine is run by students, and for (primarily) students, we do our utmost to keep it running. Our committee writes for every discipline of the English Language and Culture at University Leiden (Philology, Literature, Linguistics, and Language Acquisition). In addition, the magazine features articles on Culture, Current Affairs, Movie/ Book Reviews, Studying Abroad, Interviews with Professors, Creative Writing, and any other additional piece that made it to print!

How? By donating €5 you would greatly help us out to begin covering the printing costs of our beloved student magazine. All that needs to be done is fill in the bottom of this form, sign it, and transfer the money to the account.

Perks? Yes, there are perks! As a Friend of Angler, your name will be printed on the inside of the cover. We decided to place it there because it will be the first thing people read when they open the magazine, and we want them to know that it is you who made the magazine in their hands possible!

Patron of the Angler

What? As a Patron of the Angler, you donate a minimum of €20 per year. The term automatically terminates at the end of each academic year (July). Should you want to continue being our patron after a year, do not worry. We will send out a reminder that the year is coming to an end and you can choose whether you want to remain a patron for another year.

Why? Printing The Angler is the biggest cost we have and our subsidies are not cutting it. Therefore, we need help. So, to keep the student-run magazine running, we like to have Patrons. Our committee writes for every discipline of the English Language and Culture at University Leiden (Philology, Literature, Linguistics, and Language Acquisition). In addition, the magazine features articles on Culture, Current Affairs, Movie/Book Reviews, Study Abroad, Interviews with Professors, alumni and professionals, Creative Writing, and any other additional piece that made it to print!

How? By donating €20 (or more, to your own choice) you would greatly help us to cover the printing costs of our magazine. All you need to do is fill in the slip at the end of this form, sign it, and transfer the money to our account.

Perks? Yes, as a Patron: you get a special mention on the inside of the cover, in this way it will be the first thing people see when they open the magazine. Besides that, a limited amount of space will be available for you to print (say, a business logo, or a personal message). And last but not least, we will organise a special event at the end of the academic year for all our Patrons.

Donator of The Angler

What? As a Donator of The Angler, you donate any amount of money you would like. You will not get stuck to anything, this is a one-time donation of money for the first issue that is coming out after the moment of your donation.

Why? Every issue of The Angler is printed as long as the budget allows that. The costs are higher than what we are subsidized for, and because the magazine is by students, and for (primarily) students, we do our outmost best to keep it running. Our committee writes for every discipline of the English Language and Culture at University Leiden (Philology, Literature, Linguistics, and Language Acquisition). In addition, the magazine features articles on Culture, Current Affairs, Movie/Book Reviews, Study Abroad, Interviews with Professors, alumni and professionals, Creative Writing, and any other additional piece that made it to print!

How? By donating even a little bit of money you would greatly help us out to begin covering the printing costs of our beloved student magazine. All you need to do is fill out the bottom of this form, sign it, and transfer the money to the account.

Perks? Yes, there are perks! As a Donator of The Angler, your name will be printed on the inside of the cover of the first issue that is printed after the moment of your donation. We decided to place it there because it will be the first thing people read when they open the magazine, and we want them to know that it is you who made the magazine in their hands possible!
